FEATURES AND USES

Its technical and aesthetic features make painted glass the favourite material for architects, interior designers, and furnishings manufacturers.

Its hardness and the use of ceramic paints ensure colour stability and mechanical resistance against scratches and nicks even in exterior applications.

Its colour uniformity and UV resistance make it perfect for large façades in residential and commercial buildings.

When it comes to interior design, gloss, reflective, and satin-finish surfaces meet various size and depth requirements while ensuring privacy when used on doors and partition walls.
